

IBMA Coordinator Meeting – June 2 – National Geographic Museum

On Friday, June 2 we will have the last IBMA coordinator meeting of the year at the National Geographic Museum. The museum is located at 1145 17th Street NW in Washington DC.

8:30-9:00 Registration

9:00-10:00 A brief business meeting from IBMA and an overview of the resources available at the museum will follow in the Explorer's Hall

10:00-12:30 We will then divide into three groups to explore the two main exhibition halls, which will be focusing on Earth Explorers (for more information, click here: <http://www.nationalgeographic.org/dc/exhibitions/national-geographic-presents-earth-explorers/>) and Sharks (for more information, click here: <http://www.nationalgeographic.org/dc/exhibitions/sharks/>)

Because the museum does not have a cafeteria large enough to accommodate all of us, breakfast and lunch will be on your own.

To get to the museum by metro:

National Geographic is located a few blocks from the Farragut North Metro Station on the Metro's Red Line. From the L Street Metro exit, head east on L Street toward 17th Street. Make a left on 17th Street. The museum will be on the right. Alternatively, take the Blue, Orange, or Silver Line to Farragut West. Make a right out of the metro, turn left on 17th Street, and walk two blocks. The museum will be on the right. Visit the Metro website for more station information.

For parking information, please visit Parking Panda at <https://www.parkingpanda.com/dc-parking> .

Included in your registration will be a question about which book you would like to read for our September coordinator meeting. We will purchase and bring books for you to pick up at the museum.

Book choices include (click on the titles to take you to amazon reviews):

- Flattening Classrooms, Engaging Minds by Julie Lindsay and Vicki Davis
- Thinking at Every Desk by Derek Cabrera
