

Social Studies Teacher

Trinity Episcopal School in Richmond, Virginia, is seeking a full-time instructor in the Social Studies Department for the 2018-19 school year. A BA in the humanities is required, with a strong History emphasis preferred. Teaching experience at the high school level is required.

The ideal candidate communicates to students a deep curiosity about the human past and inspires exploration into the social studies discipline, connecting students to real world applications. The instructor will teach social studies to high school students at a variety of levels, and preferably has experience in teaching one or more of the Group 3 subject areas in the International Baccalaureate Program. The teacher will develop student skills in critical, historical thinking as well as mastery of content. The teacher will actively use a variety of instructional strategies to engage students' critical thinking, including the innovative use of technology.

Interested candidates should submit electronic copies of resume and cover letter to Lee Sprague, Head of Faculty Life, at lsprague@trinityes.org. Additionally, send (email or mail) copies of transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate coursework.
