NOTES
Session outcomes: Participants will have an opportunity to join other like-minded IB professionals who are new or new-ish to their IB leadership role. To maximize learning and growth, this session is dually hosted by a new coordinator and a seasoned coordinator--a new coordinator who has a shared experience with the intended audience, and a seasoned coordinator who has “been there” and can provide needed guidance. In this session, we seek to find space and time to discuss the business and dispositions of the coordinator’s position, as well as to engage in problem-solving, should problems of practice appear. Finally, we offer fellowship for IBMA members, to forge relationships within the organization beyond our large general membership gatherings. It is important to be inclusive for this endeavor and as such, we will offer this session in both in-person and virtual format.
